The Envision Cache Valley process has engaged Cache County, Utah, and Franklin County, Idaho, residents in a joint process to explore valley-wide growth issues. The public process began February 25th with a Growth Summit and was followed by nine public workshops, 14 additional town hall meetings, and two on-line surveys.. An independent poll confirmed the information shared through public meetings and the on-line surveys. The Steering Committee crafted a vision inspired by and created from public input. To date, more than 2,600 citizens have participated.

The Vision Summit marks the culmination of public events surrounding the Envision Cache Valley visioning process.
